Great Air Search Underway For Missing TCA Airliner

By George Finlay
 VANCOUVER, April 30 (CP)—The silence of snow-swept Mt. Moriarity, its white summit sparkling in bright sunshine, possibly shrouding the fate of the missing trans-Canada Airlines transport, today was shattered by the drone of multi-engine aircraft searching for a trace of the big silver plane.

NEARLY A SCORE of planes, carrying medical supplies, food, winter clothing and blankets, took off for the second day in the hunt for the missing transport which disappeared early Tuesday with 12 passengers and a crew of three. Eighty fliers and specially trained rescue crews were in the planes.

But the forbidding mile-high mountain held its secret. There was no trace of the "bright object" sighted by searchers late yesterday on Mt. Moriarity, 15 miles west of Nanaimo.

High over the snowy wastes, the planes soared today, the watchers training their glasses on the mountain sides and into the valleys.

OTHER SEARCHERS sought to learn the meaning of a "red glow" seen in the sky shortly after 1:00 a.m. Tuesday, about an hour after the plane vanished. They, too, returned to search headquarters at Sea Island here "without a trace."

"We saw no trace of the downed plane," said Ray Munro, a photographer pilot, who accompanied by Bill Fletcher, a reporter for the Vancouver Sun, made an hour-long flight over the rugged range 70 airline miles from Vancouver.

"Drifting snow might have covered the plane by now if she piled in down here," he suggested.

In the distance, other search planes were sighted, but there was no sign of life on the land locked lakes or forest wastes.

The country surrounding Mt. Moriarity is almost inaccessible. It would take days to reach the nearest logging roads or the Nanaimo area on foot.

Fresh snow fell in the mountain area during the night, returning pilots reported.

Another "clue" was under investigation with a report that "gouged snow" was sighted in the coastal mountains on the mainland near Woodfibre, a village on Howe Sound, 30 miles west of here.

THE FRESH PATCH of snow was spotted by E. Prince, flying a private search plane, but thick weather prevented close observation.

Vancouver civic airport, named the busiest in the Dominion, was a hive of activity.

Grim-faced maintenance crews, some of them working a double shift, are servicing search planes as fast as they land. Pilots are stopping only for coffee and quick bites between flights and the relentless hunt goes on.

Whether it was fiscal irony or a psychological come-on, the government gave Canada's little man a mental boost last night within hours of the time he had to get his 1946 income tax paid up.

Any major news there was for the man in the street in Finance Minister Abbott's budget, was almost exclusively income tax news for it was largely an income tax budget.

And the big news was that for nine out of 10 Canadians, the income tax was going to be 29 per cent or more lighter than the one he has to have paid up by midnight tomorrow night.

If the real shock of pleasure and actual lessening was delayed to July 1, at least it made that week's burden easier to take... well, a little easier.

Although the lean and amiable Mr. Abbott did not disturb the present exemptions, his reductions slashed 54 per cent off the tax on the bottom levels of $750 for single and $1,500 for married incomes and worked down gradually from there to the predominant 29 per cent and below.

As two examples, a single man making $1,800 a year would pay $218 in 1947 and $180 in 1948. If married and childless, he would pay $52 and $36.

This was all good. But Mr. Abbott also spoke of another thing which probably has been bothering the little man—the rising cost of living and the impact of the new money in his pocketbook and his neighbor's pocketbook.

"There are," he warned, "still substantial inflationary pressures pushing up prices and costs up. The reductions may add to these pressures in some measure, though they should reduce some of the demand for higher wage rates."

In other words, the cuts mean more money in a buying stream that already has killed prices to unsavory levels.

Compulsory Savings Returns Start Soon

OTTAWA, April 30 (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott told Canadians in his budget speech last night that the government will be repaying before next March 31 the $59,000,000 paid in 1942 income tax refunds as compulsory savings or refundable taxes. He said that $59,000,000 of the amount would be paid in respect of personal income taxes and $3,000,000 for excess profits tax. He did not indicate when the payments likely would start.

"To Die Again"

BATON ROUGE, La., April 30 (BUP)—Willie Francis, convicted murderer who survived one electrocution, was summoned today to a second trip to the electric chair on May 9 in a warrant signed by Acting Gov. J. Enright Verret.

On reaching Embarras, in the northern outskirts of Alberta, Fletcher was scheduled to trade the wheels of the small aircraft for skis and proceed to Yellowknife in the Northwest Territories.

Except Lecture on Prices, Profits

OTTAWA, April 30 (CP)—Business got little out of Finance Minister Abbott's budget last night except a lecture on keeping its prices and profits down and an assurance that 1947 would be the last year of the 15-per cent excess profits tax.

RATHER THAN lightening corporation taxes, the minister told business its pre-tax profits were still "abnormally high," declared it would have to "show its mettle" and then announced these steps:

1. Continuance of the corporation income tax at 30 per cent;

2. Continuance of the excess profits tax for this calendar year only;

3. A new five-per cent withholding tax on dividends paid by wholly-owned Canadian subsidiaries to their parent companies abroad, estimated to yield $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 a year.

4. Extension for 1948 of tax benefits in connection with expenditures on oil and mineral exploration, though changed somewhat in form.

5. Taxation as income on refunding securities issued because of arrears of interest or dividends. These will be taxable on their income content when received by the taxpayer after Jan. 1, 1947.

6. TAX CREDITS to Canadian companies on corporation tax paid in foreign countries by companies they control.

7. Setting of Aug. 1, 1947, as the last date for filing applications for determination of standard profits.

FIRST BUDGET—Hon. Douglas Abbott, minister of finance, who in his first budget, brought down last night, announced sweeping cuts in personal income tax which will average about 29 per cent.

Budget Gives Little Man Mental Boost

Some Approve Tax Reductions Disappoint Labor

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

A Canadian Press survey of Canada-wide reaction to the new federal budget today revealed, in a nutshell, qualified approval by industrial heads, disappointment of trades union leaders that income tax cuts were not greater.

Financial and industrial spokesmen cheered the announcement that the excess profits tax of 15 per cent will be dropped next Dec. 31, although some thought it might have been dropped immediately.

LABOR spokesmen were bitter in linking the removal of the excess profits tax with the reductions in personal income tax. They said the reduction would not halt the campaign for higher wages. They complained that the exemptions in the lower income brackets had not been changed.

Among labor critics, C. S. Jackson (Continued on Page 5)

Butter Price Up Ten Cents Pound

OTTAWA, April 30 (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced in the Commons today an increase of 10 cents a pound in the retail ceiling price on butter, effective tomorrow.

He also announced a retail increase of approximately four cents a pound in the ceiling price on Cheddar cheese and an increase of one cent a tin in the ceiling on evaporated milk, both effective tomorrow.

The butter and cheese increases take the place of producer subsidies which are being discontinued as of tonight and at the same time provide a few cents additional profit for the producer.

Mr. Gardiner also announced a 1½ cents a dozen increase in prices for eggs sold to Britain, effective May 5.

The egg increase is aimed at offsetting recent advances allowed in the price of feed grains for poultry.

Simultaneously with Mr. Gardiner's announcement, a prices board statement disclosed that, to maintain the producer price relationship, two cents a pound will be added to the ceiling prices of both dairy and whey butter beginning tomorrow.

Telephone Strike Nearer Settlement

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Settlement of telephone strikes in Pennsylvania and New York City led to optimism today for a quick agreement in the United States-wide phone tieup. An agreement settling the 24-day strike of 37,000 employees of the New York Bell Telephone Company was announced by J. R. Mandelbaum of the United States conciliation service. The unions announced the terms were a $4 weekly raise and other union-sought improvements.

Spring Wheat Reported Green

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., April 30 (CP)—A report received in Lethbridge today said that a field of spring wheat sown last week now is green. The wheat, sown in the Turin area of the Lethbridge northern irrigation district, was aided by several days of warm weather. Work on the land now is becoming general with good moisture conditions prevailing.

By George Kitchen

OTTAWA, April 30 (CP)—Sweeping cuts in personal income taxes which will average 29 per cent or more for nine out of every 10 taxpayers were announced last night by Finance Minister Abbott as he placed before the Commons a budget apied heavily to the liking of the man with a little or middle income.

These reductions will become effective July 1 this year.

For business, Mr. Abbott announced abolition of the 15-per cent excess profits tax effective Dec. 31. The 30-per cent tax on corporation incomes remains unchanged.

There are minor alterations relating to business, and some equally minor innovations in this field, but no change is being made in the broad scope of taxes applying to commodities such as soft drinks and chinaware, candy and furs, radios, liquor, tobacco and many other such items.

A "Taxpayers' Budget"

That, in brief, is the outline of what might be termed a "taxpayers' budget," aimed at reducing taxation levels which Mr. Abbott conceded would constitute a "serious impediment" to a full working effort and "a brake" on individual drive and initiative.

Mr. Abbott reported the cuts would range from as high as 54 per cent in the bottom brackets of income to a limit of approximately six or seven per cent in top brackets.

As nearly as can be estimated, he went on, 95 per cent of all taxpayers will find that under the new schedule the marginal rate of tax—the rate on each additional dollar that they earn—will not exceed 20 per cent. This would be overtime pay that might put a taxpayer in a higher tax bracket.

The present basic exemptions and allowances will remain unchanged.

The Estimated Surplus

On the governmental side of the budget, Mr. Abbott announced he is budgeting for an estimated surplus of $190,000,000 providing Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia do not sign taxation agreements with the Dominion and a surplus of $80,000,000 if they do reach an agreement.

He estimated 1947-48 revenues at $2,450,000,000 against $2,984,000,000 in the 1946-47 fiscal year and expenditures at $2,100,000,000 against $2,632,000,000.

While the individual taxpayer received preferred treatment in the budget, business got little in the way of encouragement aside from the promise of year-end abolition of the excess profits tax.

In this connection, Mr. Abbott set Aug. 1, 1947, as the deadline for applications for determination of standard profits.

He also announced the imposition of a five-per cent tax effective immediately, on dividends paid by Canadian subsidiaries to parent companies abroad but accompanied this with the granting of a tax credit to Canadian firms for corporation tax paid abroad by controlled companies for the 1947 taxation year.

To Extend Tax Benefits

Oil and mining companies were told that tax benefits extended to them in the 1947 budget on exploration expenses will be extended "at least for another year" because they had been important in facilitating and encouraging mineral exploration and development. They would be changed from the present form of a tax credit to the more normal form of a deduction from income.

Disclose Details Of Payroll Cuts

OTTAWA, April 30 (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott announced new graduated rates of personal income tax last night and said on and after July 1 employers will have to make payroll deductions from employee cheques to conform with the new rates.

Single persons without dependents will continue paying taxes on annual incomes of $750 and over. Married persons without dependents will continue paying on incomes of $1,500 and over. These rates were introduced in the 1945 budget and went into effect Jan. 1 of this year. The 1946 exemption rate was $660 for single persons and $1,300 for married persons.

Cuts Announced

Merchants Try To Lower Prices

By The Canadian Press

Announcement of income tax cuts in the Dominion budget today plopped into the middle of a rising clamor over high prices and reports of scattered efforts by individual Canadian merchants to do something about it by voluntarily lowering prices.

Amid sporadic talk of buyers' strikes, especially in Western Canada, where some Saskatchewan housewives decided to abstain from buying high-priced commodities, a Canadian Press survey showed one Charlottetown dealer lowering prices as much as 25 per cent. Included in centres where stores reduced prices 10 per cent were: St. Catharines, Kitchener, Ottawa, Guelph, Woodstock, Ont., and Vancouver.

SOME CENTRES reported efforts to still the outcry against the eight-cent chocolate bar which until recently sold for six cents, by (Continued on Page 5)

Leduc No. 2 Well

With small oil showings, mud and gas encountered between 5,139 and 5,159 foot levels, the crew drilling No. 2 Imperial Oil Ltd. well at Leduc will go deeper through the rock zone, officials announced Wednesday.

Porosity has shown an increase as the hole goes deeper and the drilling will continue with the expectation of further increase in porosity at lower levels.

The drill hole will also be reamed out.

Slight porosity has also been encountered at No. 3 well, now at a depth of 4,903 feet. Drilling stems tests at this well, made at 4,877 and 4,891 feet levels failed to show oil or gas.

Coring was being carried out Wednesday at Leduc No. 4, now at a depth of 4,489 feet.

Wetaskiwin Hotel Is Reported Sold

WETASKIWIN, April 30—A $90,000 real estate deal, involving sale of the Wales hotel here, was reported today on behalf of H. A. Bendick, former owner.

B. Kuesler, former owner of a hotel at Vermilion and operator of two Edmonton restaurants, is the purchaser.

Mr. Bendick, prominent in business circles here since 1941 when he purchased the Wales hotel, has bought a manufacturing agency business at Vancouver, and is residing there. He was active in the Kiwanis Club and Sea Cadet movement here. He came to Wetaskiwin from Winnipeg, buying the hotel from Lloyd Banerman, Edmonton. Mrs. Bendick, who has been active in IOOE and Red Cross work here, has joined her husband at the coast.

Consumer Goods Costs "Dangerously High"

Level of prices for consumer goods is "dangerously high" and unless there is co-operation among all concerned, government, industry and labor, to bring prices down "we are going to strike a lot of buyer resistance."

THIS WAS the view expressed here Wednesday by Thomas Wilding, Toronto, assistant general manager of the Dominion Bank of Canada, touring western branches on a periodical inspection.

"Everywhere now in Canada, both east and west, there is definite evidence of buyer resistance," Mr. Wilding told reporters, who interviewed him in the Dominion Bank offices.

"The solution lies in the co-operation of government, industry and labor to bring prices down," the bank official said.

Asked if he thought the price situation would lead to a recession or a depression, Mr. Wilding said: "I don't see how we can have a depression and unemployment while heavy industry and the construction trades have a heavy must program ahead. For one thing the railways haven't even started to re-equip following the war years."

Rising prices could, however, lead to so much buyer resistance that the whole economy of the nation would be slowed down, he warned.

Asked about the bank's plans for the future in Edmonton Mr. Wilding said:

"We have an expansion program in mind for the west when conditions of building warrant and this would include plans for expansion in Edmonton. However there is nothing definite to announce as yet."

A NEW BANK branch is now nearing completion in Lethbridge and should be opened by July 1. A new branch also is being opened in Vancouver and there is one in Lloydminster, Sask.

Mr. Wilding said there would be no change in bank policy toward credits to farmers. Assistance in the way of loans for needed machinery and binder twine would be forthcoming as in previous years, he said.

has been received favorably here according to a sampling of mercantile opinion.

The manager of a well known specialty shop said he believed the peak of increases in retail prices had been reached and that the trend would now be toward a reduction.

In agreement with the opinion of a senior official of a large department store, he pointed out that Edmonton by comparison with other Canadian cities had the lowest margin of profit markup on most retail commodities.

ONE STORE head said "On a checkup of other Canadian cities

Edmonton in my opinion is the lowest markup city in Canada."

He stated that the larger department stores were absorbing increased costs, and that although costs to the merchant were still rising they would not be applied to consumer prices.

In Calgary two stores were reported to have joined in a move to cut prices by 10 per cent effective Thursday.

Another store in that city said it would put the plan into effect as a definite policy. A Calgary grocer said he would put into effect a 10 per cent cut on all grocery lines except butter, eggs, bread, confectionery, cigarettes and sugar.

Premier Ernest Manning, and many others, declined comment until the budget could be studied in detail.

North Sawmill Destroyed By Fire

The Lewis and Faulkner sawmill, nine miles west of Notikewin, was destroyed by fire on Sunday. Unofficial estimates were that damages were more than $25,000 and may reach $50,000.

The fire originated from a pile of burning slabs. The fire spread fast, and got out of control. Several thousand feet of lumber was destroyed, along with a diesel caterpillar tractor, engine, planer, edger and some other heavy machinery. The sawmill building was burned to the ground.

Mill workers and others from the town of Notikewin, 65 miles north of Peace River were able to save several lumber piles and most of the other buildings in the camp.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

Fire Losses Can Be Cut

In spite of safety measures, fire extinguishers and firemen, there are serious fires every day. The total loss adds up to millions of dollars every year. Yet much of this loss can be avoided. For example, fire can make little headway in a building protected with asbestos materials. You can't burn asbestos—even with a blowtorch.

Johns-Manville, with more than eighty-eight years of experience, makes asbestos building materials for the home, farm, factory and office. Not only roofing and siding, but interior walls and ceilings—fireproof materials of many types.

If you plan to repair, remodel or build, Johns-Manville suggests you ask your nearest J-M dealer about the many materials made of asbestos... the great enemy of fire.

North Baseball Loop Re-Organizes for '47

ATHABASCA, April 30.—B. W. Bellamy was re-elected president of the Northern Alberta Baseball League here Sunday at the first annual meeting held in the Vet's Memorial Hall. The league is scheduled to open May 25 with at least two games.

J. M. Dechene, MP, and Gordon Lee, MLA, were again named honorary presidents, while J. Edwards was elected vice-president, and Archie Labrie was returned as secretary-treasurer. Elected to the executive are: Bob Richards and John Gorman, Fairhaven; L. McNamara and T. Ball of Boyle, and Jack Mackie of Athabasca.

Escape Injury

ATHABASCA, April 30.—Four persons narrowly missed being injured here recently when a truck owned by Don Russell of Athabasca broke out of control, went down the hill on Cunliffe street and turned over before coming to a stop. None of the occupants was seriously injured and damage to the truck was not excessive.

This was the third accident of its kind in recent years.

Plan New Building

STETTLE, April 30.—The town of Stettler is considering the erection of a building, to cost $15,000, north of the present town hall, it was reported recently at the regular meeting of the board of trade by Mayor Blair.

The building, which first has to be approved by the ratepayers, would contain the municipal offices, RCMP offices, a waiting room for out-of-town visitors, as well as provide storage space for fire equipment.

A report on the new route of the highway from Stettler to Alix was received here recently from W. S. Mackie, MLA, who stated that the work should be completed in about six weeks.

Wed 25 Years

VERMILION, April 30.—Well-known old-timers of Vermilion, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. (Bert) Taylor, were recent guests of honor at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Donnelly, Vermilion. They were celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary. A reception was held for 25 guests, who were old-time friends of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were married at Vermilion on April 19, 1922, by the Rev. H. A. Edwards. They have three children, Mrs. Lloyd Donnelly of Vermilion, Neil and Lorne of Edmonton, and one grandson, Gary Donnelly.

They resided in Vermilion for the greater part of their lives, moving to Edmonton in 1945, where Mr. Taylor is a locomotive engineer on the CNR.

Curlers Meet

KITSICOTY, April 30.—The Kitsicoty Curling club held its final meeting recently and from the reports a very successful season was enjoyed by the club and its members.

Danish Monarch Laid To Rest

COPENHAGEN, April 30 (AP).—Half a million Danes stood in silent mourning today watching the cortege of beloved King Christian X pass through black-decked streets to his burial place in Roskilde cathedral. Two kings—Haakon VII of Norway and Frederik of Denmark—a president and 16 princes followed the royal hearse as the spectacular funeral procession proceeded through the main business streets of Copenhagen along a mile route to the central station.

Mosher Uncertain Of Wage Demands

OTTAWA, April 30 (CP).—A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said today he could not say "at the moment" to what extent the reduction in income tax indicated in Finance Minister Abbott's budget will affect demands for wage increases. "While I feel that the proposals made by organized labor for an increase in the amount of exemptions for both married and single persons should have received more favorable consideration," Mr. Mosher said in a statement, "the proposed reductions in income tax afford some relief for those in the lower and middle income brackets."

Freight Hearings To Start May 15

OTTAWA, April 30 (CP).—Regional hearings in the national freight-rate inquiry likely will start in the Maritimes about May 15, it was indicated today.

The Board of Transport Commissioners, which decided yesterday to hold coast-to-coast sittings, was told by provincial counsel for the Maritimes and the west that they had agreed the sittings should open in the east.

CHIEF COMMISSIONER J. A. Cross said today an announcement would be made shortly on the Board's itinerary.

Ottawa sessions on the railway's application for 30-per-cent freight rate increases will be concluded some time next week, Hugh O'Donnell, counsel for the Canadian National Railways, told the Board today.

Isaac Pitblado, counsel for the Railway Association of Canada, informed the Board it was not intended to call witnesses for the country's smaller railways, since it was assumed their requirements were in line with those of the CNR and Canadian Pacific.

Sudetan Settlers Become Citizens

POUCE COUPE, B. C. April 30.—Special naturalization ceremony for 17 Sudetans from the Sudetan Colony, Tate Creek B.C., 15 miles south of here, was held in the Tate Creek community hall with his honor Judge Woodburn, county court

Judge from Prince George officiating. The Sudetan settlement was established in 1938, and at that time only 600 acres were under cultivation. This has been increased to over 8,000 acres, with a large community hall, school, church and co-operative store and shipping association. W. Wanka, manager of the colony, opened the ceremony by introducing the various guests, comprising, in addition to judge

Woodburn, Inspector Duncan, RC police, A. McLelland, lawyer and S. Carling, deputy registrar, representing the government agent. In his remarks Mr. Wanka explained the ceremony to follow and expressed their thankfulness at becoming Canadian citizens.

The average American family consumes about one and one-half pounds of spices annually, all of which are imported.

Safe Recovered

A safe stolen from the Northern Alberta Railroad station at Thorhild last April 1 has been recovered, according to RCMP. The bottom was knocked out and $350 in cash was taken. Officials said the safe was found at the side of a road about five miles north of Bon Accord by Peter Magers and Frank Hornsby. All other articles in the safe, including money orders and stamps, were intact.

Bull Sale May 27

LLOYDMINSTER, April 30.—The 29th annual Lloydminster bull sale will be held on Tuesday, May 27. One hundred and twenty-six animals will be offered for sale. This is only two animals less than last year's record-breaking entry.

The sale is unusual in that it is an inter-provincial event, entries and buyers coming from both Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Entries this year cover a territory from west of Edmonton, east to Kelvington, Sask., and south to Hayter. The sale is sponsored by the Lloydminster Exhibition Association.

In addition to the bull sale, a district calf show and sale will be held on Monday, May 26. More than 200 boys and girls from both provinces will show and sell calves.

A new life guarded from the start

The doctors and the nurses in Canada's leading maternity hospitals have chosen a new weapon with which to protect both mother and child from the risks of septic infection. They use 'Dettol,' the modern antiseptic. And the qualities of an antiseptic are never more searchingly tested than during the hours of childbirth. The properties of 'Dettol' are remarkable. Though a powerful germicide, 'Dettol' is kind and gentle to human tissues. 'Dettol' is non-poisonous, and harmless to everything but germs.

DETTOL
THE MODERN ANTISEPTIC

THE REASONS why 'Dettol' is now being used in more and more of the leading hospitals in Canada.

- 1 'Dettol' antiseptic is a ruthless killer of the germs that cause so many septic infections.
 - 2 'Dettol' is non-toxic—non-poisonous. (Important in homes where there are young children).
 - 3 'Dettol' is effective in the presence of blood and pus.
 - 4 'Dettol' is gentle and kind to human tissues.
 - 5 'Dettol' is safe: so safe that it could, in emergency, be used even in the dark.
 - 6 'Dettol' does not stain either linen or the skin.
 - 7 'Dettol' is deodorant, pleasant, agreeable, and admirably suited for use in feminine hygiene.
- Do as the hospitals do, keep 'Dettol' handy and use it promptly whenever infection threatens.

The Budget

The most important feature of the 'budget which was brought down at Ottawa yesterday is the slashing of personal income taxes. Nine out of ten taxpayers will find their levies reduced, by an average of 29 per cent. For those in the lower brackets the reduction will be 54 per cent. Those receiving larger incomes will come under a graduated scale, the cut diminishing until in the top brackets the reduction will be only six or seven per cent.

Exemption limits remain unchanged, at $750 for single persons and $1,500 for married persons. This will be disappointing to a very large number of people who are finding it increasingly difficult to make ends meet as the price level has moved upward.
A cut of 54 per cent in their taxes will however go a good way to offset this higher cost of living; as smaller cuts will go to compensate those in higher brackets.

The broad effect will be to leave more buying power in the hands of the consuming public, therefore to stimulate trade and encourage production. The extra amount thus left to the taxpayers will total $175,000,000 over a full year. As the tax-cuts come into effect at the first of July, the saving to the taxpayers in the present year will be about $110,000,000. It is primarily a consumer's budget.

Other tax reductions affecting the general public directly are minor in character.
There are no changes in the tariff, as none are being made in the tariff structures of other countries pending the outcome of the trade negotiations started at Geneva. The nations are taking a tariff holiday until it is seen what kind of international trade policy the world is to live under.

"Business," it is said, will find little to cheer for in the budget. Corporation taxes remain as they are. Excess profits taxes are to be repealed entirely, but not until the end of this calendar year. The reason for this may be found in the statement by the Minister that raising prices is a poor recommendation for reduction of taxation.
The inference is quite plain that if key industrialists had shown more energy in holding prices down general business would have a better claim to relief.

But every legitimate business concern and interest in the country will benefit through the heavy scaling-down of personal income taxes. Their customers will have more to spend. Their sales will be larger, their turnover greater. At the same time they are left with a strong inducement to hold prices in hand, since the Government will continue for the rest of the year to gather in excess profits. There is less temptation to inflate prices when the tax-collector grabs the extra money.

A surplus of $352,144,000 for the past year left room for more sweeping tax reduction. But the Minister preferred not to go out on a limb and scale his collections down in this proportion. He anticipates a surplus of $190,000,000 for the year ending next March, unless Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia join the other provinces in making taxation agreements with the Dominion. If they do this, the prospective surplus is around $80,000,000.

It is fair to regard this as another "interim" budget. The figures of collections and outgo are still astronomical. A new income tax bill is to be brought down which will consolidate and revise the structure built up piecemeal during the war years. How this will distribute the burden remains to be seen. Since exemption limits are not raised, the implication is that lightening the load is to be sought by further reducing the income levies on persons with small incomes, rather than by striking them off the taxlist altogether. The budget a year from now will probably have more appearance of permanency.

The Candy Bar

The candy bar has suddenly attained a new prominence. It is no longer merely something to eat. In fact it has largely lost that character, for the munching has diminished. Young people, and some older ones, are foregoing the gustatory delight in large numbers, hoping that abstinence will bring down the price. That makes the bar an economic issue, rather than a confection.

And a symbol as well. For the candy bar is not the only, nor the most important, commodity which large numbers of buyers say they will not buy unless prices come down —or if they go up any farther. The obvious point is that the seller's market is facing new customer resistance. Not only because prices have moved upward, but because this is a time when increasing output should operate the other way, so far as higher producing costs permit.

It is possible that the candy bar will not again fall to the five-cent level. One Winnipeg firm announces that it stopped making bars when the retail price rose to eight cents; foreseeing a slump in sales, and unable to make money by producing bars to sell at a lower figure.

This point should be borne in mind in reference to other things. Increased wages and costs of materials have hoisted the cost of producing many kinds of goods permanently. The general levelling-off may have to be at a higher price level than obtained in pre-war days. The consumer cannot overlook that fact.

Echoes of Moscow

Echoes following the collapse of the Moscow conference have no ominous sound.
Quite the contrary.

Premier Stalin, it is disclosed, didn't expect much would be accomplished. General Marshall thinks that, by bringing the major disagreements into the open, the conferees may have paved the way for better progress when they meet again. Mr. Bevin tells the people of Britain to not lose patience, and reminds them that the job in hand is to build a peace that will last, not to rush up a jerry-built structure in record time.

Cynics could say these are alibis offered by the participants to excuse their failure to write treaties with Germany and Austria and to clear up the European mess generally.
No one else will so interpret them. Only a cynic could accuse these men of insincerity, for only a fool could trifle with so critical
a situation—and these men are not fools.
They made an earnest attempt to bring their views into line. They failed because the views are divergent.

But they have not thrown up their hands. They are to meet again. Meanwhile there will be study in each capital of the positions clarified at Moscow, and no doubt reactions from the delegates to the Assembly of the United Nations. If the prospect of agreement does not brighten as a result, that will be strange. For while settlement delays Europe is disintegrating. That is something which none of the Big Four—nor the world at large—can afford to ignore.

At least the three conferees heard from are in agreement on one point; the clarifying talks at Moscow did not change the outlook for the worse.

Calgary's "Art" Smith, MP, told the House of Commons it was no use members bidding for old age pensioners' votes. He hoped, if there was to be a new scale, it would be generous. So now who's "bidding?"

Should the people of the United States be allowed of right but of might. If the principle is once admitted that because the United States wills Canada must, then the prospect of a Canadian nationality is lost, and the name Canadian becomes a reproach.

The proposal of the United States Congress to cut

Reader's Digest on Spies

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

Just before Hitler's war it began to strike me as most peculiar that the Reader's Digest always gave such emphasis to articles by Charles Lindbergh. When the war was coming to an end, the Digest openly went "anti-Russian" in a big way.

There is hardly a month that passes when the Reader's Digest does not carry some article written by some ex Trotskyite, or dis-serter from the Soviet service—the effect of which is to increase hate against Russia.

CANADIANS PHILPOTT
have a good chance to judge the Digest type articles by one in the May, 1947, issue. It is called "The Soviet Spies," and condenses a book of that name by an ex-Lt.-Col. Richard Hirsch.

This is a rehash of the Ottawa spy report. It ends up with a purple bordered box which lists
the following:

Dr. Alan May	Found guilty	10 years
Fred Rose	Found guilty	10 years
Emma Woikin	Found guilty	3 years
Kathleen Willsher	Found guilty	3 years
H. S. George	Found guilty	3 years
J. S. Benning	Found guilty	3 years
D. G. Lunan	Found guilty	4 years
Dunford Smith	Found guilty	8 years

The Reader's Digest includes as "found guilty" J. S. Benning, whose conviction was quashed by the Ontario Appeal Court on April 25.
But it omits entirely—from its purple bordered box—the names of those who were found innocent.
The Digest could have—and to be fair, should have—added at least these notable names:

Agatha Chapman	Found innocent
Eric Adams	Found innocent
M. S. Nightingale	Found innocent
Stanford Leader	Found innocent
Dr. David Shugar	Found innocent
W. M. Tappin	Found innocent

Abandoning Control

BY CHESTER A. BLOOM

OTTAWA: Whatever criticism may have been brought in the past against unyielding price control policy, it cannot be alleged that the government is not willing to adjust that policy to conditions of increasing production. That was amply evidenced in two debates on the new bill continuing only some 57 of the thousands of old wartime control order in council powers.

Mr. Abbott, minister of finance, looked an extremely realistic position. He displayed courage in replying to the attacks by M. J.
Coldwell on alleged excessive corporation profits derived from gradual relaxation of price ceilings.
Mr. Abbott stood firmly on the position that the only ultimately sound adjustment of prices can be achieved by operation of the law of supply and demand, "which never had been proved wrong" he said.

THE GOVERNMENT was modifying price ceilings carefully as world supply of raw materials rose toward the levels of demand, he pointed out. But the people must take a realistic view of the situation where raw material prices had been reasonably stabilized at higher levels. The government was pursuing watchful policy. Whereas it was clearly shown that relaxation of price ceilings was occasioning undue profits, the government would not hesitate to reimpose ceilings. But the facts had not demonstrated as yet any such emergent condition.

Another effective point made by Mr. Abbott was that Mr. Coldwell's citations of allegedly big percentage increases in corporation profits were totally useless unless at the same time it was shown on what volume of business the profits were made. Those accused of big business conditions in Canada are well aware that companies now expanding their production to meet the enormous backlog of demand inevitably increase their profits in relation to expanding volume of business.

It's Human Nature

BY HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

It has been said that the greatest obstacle to human happiness is human nature. Whenever anybody suggests that if this be true, it is time we did something about human nature somebody else comes along and points out that it is much the same today as it was at the dawn of history and during the 5,000 odd years of which we have records there have been few if any changes. What then, is human nature which is so unchangeable?

The psychologist tells us that human nature is the term used to describe the behaviour trends of people as individuals and as groups.
He goes on to explain that it is determined by two things. One he calls heredity and the other environment. By heredity he means the traits which we inherit from our parents and ancestors through the germ cells from which we spring and includes both physical and mental characteristics. Among our mental characteristics are our instincts and some of these are common to practically all humans. Of these perhaps the most important are the instinct for self-preservation, the instinct for race preservation or the sex instinct, the desire to feel important, and the desire for self-expression or creative work. Perhaps the last two are really parts of the same desire for approval from one's fellow-men.

THE PSYCHOLOGIST tells us that the drive of these instincts is so strong that it cannot be ignored.
If it is represented or frustrated the mind will seek adjustment. The individual will become restless, unhappy. He will develop complexes of various sorts, one of which may be a desire to change his employment, residence, companions, or to develop a grudge against the world, or people, or the economic system or society.

Here then it seems to me is the key to happiness. It was an old Greek philosopher who said in effect that the happy man was one who could fulfill all the desires of his heart without doing anyone harm. So if we would be happy it seems to me that we must satisfy our instinct for self-preservation—that is, we must feel that we are safe and secure and that the future hold no fears or dangers with which we cannot cope successfully.
We must have a home and a family. We must feel that those around us approve of us—at least some of them. And we must either from our work or some hobby get a feeling of satisfaction and accomplishment.

TODAY, because of the importance of money in our economy—and money seems to assume a greater importance when you haven't it than when you have—most people try to satisfy all those urges by accumulating money and property. We look to money to give us our sense of security, we look to money to enable us to have a home, and children, we want money

FOSTER PARENT PROTESTS Editor, Bulletin: Through your valuable paper I wish to take strong exception to the uncalled for publicly created by one Dr. Whitton re child adoption.

As parents of an adopted child we feel this publicity most unfair and unkind.

We are well acquainted with several other couples who have adopted babies. And while none of us is "rich" we feel we can give our babies a good home with a good start in life—certainly better than if they were left in a "home."

Might also add that we are well acquainted with two American couples who adopted babies and would like to assure Dr. Whitton they are in good homes and isn't that what is of first importance whether reared under the U.S.
flag or the Canadian flag?

If Dr. Whitton is raising his voice up and down the Province in the interests of a few who may have been wronged we feel he should retract in the interests of the vast majority who have not.

SLOGANS

Editor, Bulletin: I am glad the writer of the letter headed "A Better Slogan" appearing in your issue of last Friday should have been a bachelor of pharmacy. It removes suspicion that he may be some kind of a metaphysical healer of whom orthodox would not approve. From such a source doubt whether such slogans as "one out of eight will die of cancer" will do much to lessen cancer, will be received with the respect that would be accorded a radical who admitted there is nothing wrong with private enterprise.

The sloganists of the altogether praiseworthy campaign against cancer have made, in my opinion and evidently others, the mistake of trying to scare us, as the Victory Bond sloganists did during the war,
instead of encouraging our confidence that we can win. Gradually because Mr. Boyle is a graduate in science I am glad to agree with him that we must rather "think health, talk health and build into the cells of the body the idea of health and strength, thus raising our power of resistance to disease."

THE VALUE OF SILENCE

Editor, Bulletin: I am not writing wholly a disagree with G. B.
who, in The Bulletin of April 25, objects to "background music" especially during prayer. Of course, the radio abhors silence as nature abhors a vacuum; its personnel seem to be afraid that even a second's pause would lead the listener to suppose the station had gone
"phut" and another customer would be lost.

That, I take it, is not what displeases G. B. so much as the strains of organ music used as the background for prayers, for he says:
"Supposing I were having an audience with the King, could one conceive of someone playing an instrument while I was addressing His Majesty? Why then this distracting innovation while men are speaking to a holy God?"

The comparison, to my mind, is defective in as much as God is not "distracted," even if He pays any attention to petitions prepared for radio listeners. On the contrary, "the concord of sweet sounds" is as I see it a characteristic of the heavenly kingdom, aiding the petitioner's devotion by soothing and elevating his emotions. Need he fear that his prayers will fail to reach the Divine Mind, which needs neither ear, nor eye, because the Divine Mind cannot pay attention to more than one thing at a time?

In most other respects I agree with G. B. To my mind, too many organists and choirmasters fail to appreciate that the most effective accompaniment for a solemn moment is silence.

WOMEN OVER 60

Editor, Bulletin:—Why is it employers needing help so urgently turn down women of fifty years and over for employment? They are fully experienced and capable workers and many of them can do a better day's work than the young ones. They have to live, they are to young for old age pension which is little enough, and according to many employers too old to do their work. Some of the best workers are women over sixty years of age. I, for one, am over sixty years and employed full time, but there are so many others who could be if employers would wake up to the fact we are a long way from dying.

SCRIPTURAL AUTHORITY

Editor, Bulletin:—I would like to voice my agreement with those who believe that the Bible is the only correct and sufficient guide for us all in every walk of life.
For the economist the interest-free or debt-free money system is recommended and the seventh year cancellation of debts by God's command. For the farmer we have the seventh year rest for the land to allow soil bacteria to make water-soluble the salts of the earth in the soil for plant's use. For family safety and racial purity we have Ten Commandments of God Almighty. For the whole social structure we have the Royal Law of Jesus Christ "Love God, obey His Laws and Love thy Neighbor," or the collective security of all God commands us to share in common all the goods and services on earth.

FOOD PRODUCTION

Editor, Bulletin:—It is seldom, indeed, that your news columns fail to carry some ominous item concerning unfavorable weather in the grainfields of unhappy Europe.
One of the latest intimated that "floods inundated thousands of acres in England and Wales. The crops destroyed much of Britain's vital winter wheat crop and killed thousands of cattle and an estimated million sheep."

This certainly is no time for Jack Canuck to flatter along the food production front.

During the war the farmer,
short-handed and lame, struggled from morning until dark to produce a record crop which the fighting forces and the home front required. Now, with his sons and hired hands with him again, the farmer once more finds himself on the firing line—this time in the battle against famine in the Old World.

Whether we realize it or not, he is the keystone in our economy in war or peace. Let us salute the Canadian pitchfork battalions that never laid down their arms!

HARD TO TAKE

Editor, Bulletin: May I take this opportunity of thanking Canada and all my kind friends for over 30 years of perfect happiness, also for the kind treatment my husband received in hospital. I came back to England to my parents, and after all the comforts of Canada, it is pretty hard to get used to the cold houses, the queues, the rigid rationing and no friends, but I hope one day to settle down and make friends.

Tax Cut Averages 29 pct.

An innovation in the income tax law will be a special provision to ensure that the income content of funding or refunding security issues received by taxpayers after Jan. 1, 1947, will be taxed as income in the year in which the new issue is received. This will safeguard revenue and preserve equity.

Mr. Abbott confirmed that the three-cent federal tax on gasoline was repealed April 1, and estimated that this levy had yielded close to $40,000,000 in the current fiscal year. Jurisdiction over the tax will return to the provinces.

Certain minor amendments will be made in the tax on passenger transportation to conform with recent changes in that field in the United States and to preserve as much similarity as possible between the taxes of the two countries.

"Iron Out" Anomalies

Some minor anomalies in the structure of the sugar tax will be "ironed out" and this will result in a reduction in the customs tariff tax on corn and table syrups from two cents to one cent a pound.

Dealing with income tax changes, Mr. Abbott announced that a bill will be presented to parliament at the current session embodying the revised and simplified tax law forecast last year by his predecessor, Rt. Hon. J. L. Halsey.

He said this measure will be accompanied by another bill aimed at achieving a "complete" revision of the special war revenue act, which will become "The Excise Tax Act."

When approved, the new income tax structure will be effective for the 1948 taxation year.

Acknowledging that present tax levels were "unpopular" and were causing "difficulty," the minister said he was endeavoring to graduate the reductions "as fairly as possible, giving the greatest proportionate relief to those in the lowest brackets, but granting some relief to all."

Encourage Extra Effort

"I have also in mind," he went on, "keeping the rates of tax on additional income that a person may earn down to sufficiently reasonable proportions that the tax on such additional income does not offer a serious barrier to extra effort or initiative, including overtime work, for example."

The new rates were "quite substantially below" those in effect and proposed in the United States.

MR. ABBOTT then gave these examples:

A married man without children and with an income of $150 a month now is subject to a monthly tax reduction from his salary of $5.25 and must pay a total for the year of about $68. Under the new rates, his monthly deductions will be only $2.85 and his liability for a whole year will be $36. For the year 1947 his total tax will amount to $25 collected at the present rate of deduction for the first half-year and at the new rates for the last half of the year.

In the United States, his total tax for a full year would be $118 under existing rates and $82 under proposed rates.

IN CANADA, a single person without dependents and with an income of $100 will, under the new rates, find his deductions each month being reduced from $8.30 at present to $4.80 after July 1, and his tax liability for a whole year will be $61 instead of $105. For the year 1947 it will be the average of these two figures—$83. Married persons with two children and a monthly income of $250 will find their deductions reduced from $25.85 a month to about $18.30, while their annual tax bill will be reduced from $327 to $230. The average applicable to this year will be $278.

Further up the scale, the married person with no dependents and an earned income of, say, $10,000 a year will find his annual tax liability cut from $2,723 to $1,990. His bill for this year will be $2,356.

DETAILING the reductions, Mr. Abbott said the new schedule has an initial or starting rate of 10 per cent instead of 22 per cent as at present. The rate then steps up gradually over relatively short brackets and becomes 20 per cent over a considerable range of income in the lower middle brackets.

The schedule reaches a rate of 50 per cent on additional income at the level where income exceeds exemptions by $17,000, in place of $13,000 under the present schedule. The tax hits a maximum of 80 per cent at the top on incomes in excess of $250,000 a year.

Referring to his decision to retain present exemptions and allowances, he said the levels now in effect are high enough to exempt completely from tax more than half the people earning incomes in Canada. Moreover, taxpayers with income only a little in excess of the exemptions will pay only a "very small tax" under the new rates.

"IF WE RAISED exemptions above the levels established last year," he added, "we should in fact be sparing so many from income tax that it would be unfair to the large numbers of the people who are below the present exemption levels, because we would inevitably be forced to rely for necessary revenues upon indirect taxes which would bear more heavily upon the low income groups."

Mr. Abbott said total tax liability for the current year—1947—will be calculated by applying the existing rates, which went into effect Jan. 1, to half of the taxpayers' income and the new rates to the other half. In other words, the effective during the war had given rise to "an acute tax consciousness." Then, too, existing rates might have been more acceptable had the taxes been raised gradually for the productive, peacetime purposes of national development and social security rather than for the unproductive purpose of war.

He added: "Instead, however, they represent a position to which we have returned after a sudden and unpleasant excursion into painful war-time levels of income tax, and people are still smarting so much that even after the substantial reductions made in the last two budgets, the present levels of personal income taxes are regarded as excessive by a larger proportion of the public."

"THEREFORE, whatever may be argued from the point of view of immediate economic effects or long term debt policy, one must reach the conclusion that those who must bear them are not ready to support income taxes on the present scale."

"In fact, I am sure that were our present levels of personal income tax to be continued, they would constitute a serious impediment to a full working effort and a brake upon the drive and initiative of men and women in all groups and classes."

5-Year-Old Bomb Blows Up in Home

WESTFIELD, N.S., April 30 (CP)—A five-year-old aerial practice bomb, believed to have been jettisoned from a plane which crashed near here in 1942, caused serious injuries to three persons Monday when it exploded in the home of Delbert Fancie. The bomb had been found Sunday by Fancie's two small sons and was being examined by a friend of Fancie when it went off. Mr. and Mrs. Fancie suffered severe cuts about the head, chest and arms and Nathan Scott, 25, was injured in the left side. Scott and Fancie were both blown through the door of the house, itself badly damaged.

Tornadoes

Salvation Army and the Red Cross set up stations and homeless were being cared for in the few remaining residences still standing and in nearby towns.

Mrs. N. A. Combs, 59, a nurse, said she first saw the tornado high in the air.

"It had a long tail," she said. "When it hit the ground there was a swirling dark cloud. The point seemed to broaden and sweep everything before it. There was a terrific roar."

MR. AND MRS. Bruce Pickering arrived just shortly after the tornado hit and found their two children, Irene and Melvin, and Mrs. Pickering's mother dead in the ruins of their home.

"Everything we had is gone—the children, the home, the livestock, everything," said Pickering. Fred Jennings died in a queer twist of the tornado. Survivors reported he had joined reducing its price to seven, to six or even to the pre-war five cents. Most merchants were not happy about the situation. In Toronto dealers who said they could not sell nationally advertised goods at reduced prices for fear of being cut off from supply by the manufacturers.

Action swelled the anti-inflationary chorus at Regina, where late last night Regina and Moose Jaw branches of the Saskatchewan Housewives Consumers League announced they would stage buyers' strikes throughout May on such articles as chocolate bars, clothing, butter, "luxury" fruit, jams and syrups.

ACTION WAS WELL underway in individual stores across the Dominion where the price drops were announced. In Charlottetown the music store of Miller Brothers Limited announced it was slashing prices on all but nationally-advertised goods from five to 20 per cent in its attempt to fight inflation.

In Vancouver a downtown hardware store cut established prices "across the board" by at least 10 per cent. The reductions will affect radios, refrigerators and regular hardware supplies. In the same city teen-agers organized to boycott the eight-cent chocolate bar and the Army and Navy stores announced they had quit buying them because of high prices.

A resolution requesting Toronto city council to urge issuing of a proclamation calling for a 10 per cent price cut was outvoted. A similar motion was passed by Windsor, Ont. city council.

Crack Down

LONDON, April 30 (Reuters)—Britain is cracking down on the issuing of driving licences, statistics issued by the ministry of transport indicated today. One person in every three failed in the 36,489 driving tests given by examiners between Nov. 1, 1946, and April 19 this year.

Barbara Ann Stars

TORONTO, April 30 (CP)—Barbara Ann Scott, world's women's figure skating champion, starred in an ice revue staged in Maple Leaf Gardens last night in aid of British food victims.

Survivors reported he had joined ed six other persons in a cellar and was standing near the door when a gust of wind sucked him out and tossed him into a telephone line. His body was found 75 feet from the cellar with the wire wrapped tightly around his legs.

BY AL DOPKING

WORTH, Mo., April 30 (AP)—A 27-year-old school teacher was the heroine today of this tornado-battered and sorrowing town where almost one quarter of the population was killed or injured by yesterday's devastating winds.

Mrs. Anne Trump was credited with saving the lives of her pupils by herding them into a cave just before the tornado struck, demolishing the school house.

"AS SOON as I got the children in, I started toward my mother's house. My mother is an invalid and I knew she would need help. I got about a block and I was walking right into the storm..."

"When I looked back I saw the school already was gone," she related. "I walked a few more yards and took one more look and saw the town disappear. I felt sure my children were safe for I had seen no sign of them a few moments before."

"The terrifying black cloud seemed to engulf me. It loomed like a huge black monster at first, then it seemed to turn yellow, and I felt a great suction... I at first sought shelter in a house but then a gust of wind began to shake the place like a back-lashing rope. I dashed around the house to the back and was trying to reach the cave when the back porch collapsed. It knocked me down and I crawled farther beneath it for protection, shielding my head with my hands."

"AS SOON as I felt the gust of wind pass, I rushed on home to see what had happened to my mother. When I found she was all right I started back to the cave to see about my children. They had climbed out of the cellar and were on the way to my mother's place to see what had happened to me. When I saw them, I knew some power greater than me had saved them."

New Soapless VEL Cleans Without Suds

by Frances Thompson noted homemaking authority

Most women have always looked to the suds in soap for its cleaning power. Now, however, a new and revolutionary soapless cleaner has been discovered which cleans without depending upon suds. At the cost of over one million dollars soapless VEL has been perfected.

NO SUDS REQUIRED
Soapless VEL makes plenty of suds, but the suds are unnecessary to the cleaning action. In fact VEL cleaning power continues long after the suds dissolve. Another noticeable difference from soap is in the action of VEL on water. Soap combines with water to make a cloudy milky-white solution. When VEL suds dissolve, the water is left as clear as soft water in a rain barrel. VEL makes the water soft, too. As a result you plainly see how much grease and grime VEL removes.

SURPRISINGLY LITTLE VEL NEEDED
Using too much VEL may give you disappointing results. It's surprising how little you need. A teaspoonful or two of VEL is usually plenty for a dishpanful of water. You'll be delighted to see how sparkling clean VEL leaves glassware and dishes... and how VEL leaves no soap scum on your dishes.

Helps Export Market

Hog Production Campaign Receives Federal Support

Voicing federal approval to the launching of an all-out campaign for the increased production of hogs for export, Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, Tuesday wired his support of the movement now underway in Alberta.

"We believe that the average western farmer can greatly improve his own position now and for the future by increasing his production of feed grain and livestock, particularly hogs," the message read.

"The Alberta Livestock Co-operative is helping greatly in pointing out that while helping himself, the farmer can also help those in our best market—Britain," Mr. Gardiner's telegram concluded.

A MESSAGE EXPRESSING similar support was received Monday from Hon. James A. MacKinnon, federal minister of trade and commerce.

Latest expression from Alberta farm organizations comes from an official of the United Farmers of Alberta, Norman F. Priestley, general manager of the UFA Central Co-operative Association.

"We are expecting strong support from the many thousands of hog-producing farmers who are members of the UFA for the campaign which commences this week under the slogan 'Grow Another Hog For Britain,'" Mr. Priestley stated.

"The Alberta Livestock Co-operative is to be congratulated on initiating and heading up this campaign," he said.

MR. PRIESTLEY TOLD of the grim conditions affecting Britons in the matter of food shortages, especially meats. Speaking of recent conversations with Sir Andrew Jones, head of the British Food Mission in Canada and UFA president George E. Church, Mr. Priestley said "Sir Andrew made out a strong case for continued effort on the part of Canadian farmers to retain the fine position they have established in the British market as a source of supply for food."

Mr. Church as a delegate from the Canadian Federation of Agriculture is now on his way overseas to attend the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, meeting in May at The Hague.

Let Children Go Hungry for Week

CHARLESTON, Pa., April 30.—(AP)—A hearing was docketed today for a steelworker who police said let his six children go hungry for a week although he returned home to feed his four dogs.

The steelworker, Charles Joseph Gales, 33, and his wife, Catherine, 34, were ordered held after an arraignment last night on charges of abandonment and cruelty to minors.

Police said the couple abandoned the youngsters, ranging in age from one to 12, a week ago. Since then, they apparently had little or no food. Two were taken to hospital and the four older children sent to a children's home and neighbors.

TORONTO, April 30.—(CP)—Thomas McMorran, one-time prices board wool allocation officer was yesterday remanded for trial on charges that he corrupted the function of his office by preferentially allocating textiles to his own firm. He was released on bail of $3,000.

RETIREES: Ben Deacon, manager of the press bureau, Canadian National Railways and Trans-Canada Air Lines has retired under the company's pension regulations. A veteran of more than 40 years' experience in journalistic and railway press work, Mr. Deacon is well known throughout Canada.

Suggests Ottawa "Reconfederate"

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative financial critic, charged last night in the Commons that Dominion-provincial relations were "becoming a scandal" and called upon the government to try to get together with all the provinces and to "reconfederate Canada".

He opened an adjourned debate on Finance Minister Abbott's budget with a 10-minute address which deprecated its brief reference to relations with the provinces.

It was scandalous, the member for the Ontario constituency of Muskoka-Ontario said, that responsible statesmen with the same background and heritage were not able to sit around a table and thrash out a fiscal solution for Canada.

Mr. Macdonnell agreed with Mr. Abbott that the budget generally justified "pride and confidence" in Canadians. But it was not Mr. Abbott's budget. It belonged to all Canadians.

Kaiser-Frazer Loses 19 Million

DETROIT, April 30.—(AP)—Kaiser-Frazer Corporation yesterday reported a consolidated net loss of $19,284,680 for 1946. As the company operated for only a few months in the latter part of 1945 no comparative figures were given. However, in a statement earlier this year a report for the first 10 months of 1946 showed a consolidated net loss of $14,236,847.

Soviet Citizens Learn More Of Western Powers' Views

Wes Gallagher was a member of the Associated Press staff which covered the foreign ministers conference in Moscow.—Editor.

BY W/S GALLAGHER

BERLIN, April 30.—(AP)—Soviet citizens read more about the views of western powers during the Moscow conference than ever before.

Whether presentation of these views to the Soviet reader had any effect is another question, however, because the Soviet press printed along with textual reports of the conference hundreds of thousands of words repeating day after day the arguments of Foreign Minister Molotov attacking the positions of the western powers.

THE FOREIGN ministers' conference also marked the first time that the government and party-controlled press and radio in Russia had competition in its own backyard. The result was that the usually languid Soviet press organs, which think nothing of waiting two or more days to announce a new world development in order to see how to play it, tried to compete with the speed of western journalism.

At least twice the Soviet radio showed western newspapermen a clean pair of heels. The first time it beat them with the news was on the prepared speech that Molotov made in the council of foreign ministers on Russian ideas for a provisional government for Germany. The second time was on the agreement to hold the next foreign ministers meeting in November.

On nearly all other occasions the British, American and French press were hours ahead of the Soviet radio.

RUSSIAN newspapers carried the texts of all prepared statements or speeches in the council by the foreign ministers. They usually left out, however, the unprepared cross talk and arguments that followed each speech.

Any speech by Molotov was followed the next day by commentators who discussed the same subject. Usually it was difficult to see any differences between Molotov's speech and the commentators' views, and sometimes whole sentences seemed to be the same.

In contrast with the textual conference reports, the commentators only presented one side of the case.

Mexico President Visits Washington

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP)—President Truman and Mexico's visiting president, Miguel Aleman, exchanged pledges of good will and peace yesterday as one of the most impressive welcomes Washington ever gave to a foreign dignitary got under way.

Cupid too Busy At High School

WHITEHAVEN, Tenn., April 30.—(AP)—The sudden blossoming of too many romances into marriages at the Whitehaven high school has provoked an administrative ban on co-educational lingering, visiting, eating and, of course, marrying.

PRINCIPAL Fred Elliott said Tuesday he had issued a circular letter to the school's 700 students declaring that marriage will mean indefinite suspension and that five-day suspensions will be slapped on those guilty of:

"Eating together," "Lingering in the cafeteria after eating is at an end," "Walking as couples on the campus," "Visiting in home rooms."

Elliott said each of the students was required to sign the letter which complained "marriage apparently has become an epidemic."

Since September there have been eight student marriages at the school.

"Warm Sympathy" Seen For Soviet

MOSCOW, April 30.—(AP)—Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, said today that a "warm sympathy toward the Soviet Union is living and growing in the hearts of millions of workers abroad."

The article was headed "Friends of the Soviet Union abroad." Pravda said workers all over the world appreciate and applaud the position of the Soviet Union in international affairs.

"The anti-Fascist committee of the Soviet youth very often receives letters from England which show how great is the sympathy toward our country in the conscience of the English people, which was strengthened against the common foe during the war."

SPEAKING of friends in the United States, the article said that in that country "many sincere friends are grouping around the organization of the national council of Soviet-American friendship."

Among American friends of the U.S.S.R. which Pravda mentioned by name were:

"A Protestant priest, Melish," (Rev. William Howard Melish, chairman of the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, announced in New York April 5 that more than 200 Protestant churchmen in 30 states who signed a statement opposing President Truman's proposal for aiding Greece and Turkey.)

"The California prosecutor, Kennedy."

"Johannes Steel."

"Prof. Ralph Perry."

"Former ambassador to the Soviet Union Joseph E. Davies."

"Albert Einstein."

"Paul Robeson and many others."

PRAVDA SAID the growth of societies for cultural relations with the Soviet Union and the friends of the U.S.S.R. was a "bright indicator of the sympathies of the people and the masses toward the country of the Soviets."

Divine Celebrates With Big Feast

PINE BROOK, N.J., April 30.—(AP)—Father Divine celebrated his first wedding anniversary with a seven-hour 350-course feast for the followers of his movement last night.

The Negro religious leader and his richly-dressed 23-year-old white wife, the former Edna Richings of Montreal, sat at a huge table flanked by giant pink and white wedding cakes and bouquets of pink roses as waitresses in white satin gowns passed out the food.

Above the couple shone a neon sign with the words, "God's holy communion table of palace mission." Song tributes to "the lamb and his spotless bride" came from a choir of 50 young girls, their red, white and blue uniforms showing a large white "V" which a secretary said stood for "virtue and victory over the pleasures of the flesh."

Protest Against Japanese Fishermen

NANKING, April 30.—(AP)—A delegation representing the various fishing associations of China petitioned the Chinese navy to send warships to keep Japanese fishermen out of Chinese fishing waters. (This dispatch did not mention any specific violation of Chinese waters by Japanese fishermen, who operate under the supervision of Allied supreme headquarters in Tokyo.)

Tax on Overtime May Be Lessened

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—A labor taxation headache—the snow-balling of income tax on overtime pay—may be alleviated through last night's federal budget. As nearly as can be estimated, Finance Minister Abbott said in his budget speech, the tax on "marginal" earnings—that is the amount that pushes the worker from one bracket to another—should not exceed 30 per cent on each additional dollar above his regular income. This would apply to about 85 per cent of all taxpayers. Since the start of high taxation, it has been a complaint of labor that much of its overtime pay has been swallowed up in income tax.

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Canadian Finance Minister D.C. Abbott last night announced in his budget speech to the House of Commons that the 1946-47 fiscal year ended with an estimated surplus of $352,144,000, an amount greater than the total of all previous surpluses since Confederation.

The surplus—the first since 1930—compared with a deficit of $2,123,043,000 in the 1945-46 fiscal year and will be applied against the country's $13,000,000,000 net debt.

Revenues for 1946-47 were estimated at $2,984,271,000 and expenditures at $2,632,127,000. The 1945-46 revenues were $3,013,185,000 against expenditures of $5,136,228,000.

Mr. Abbott, stating that all previous surpluses in Canada's history together totalled only $319,000,000, said the new surplus was gratifying but that it should not lead people into false optimism.

He recalled how, when the last budget was brought down last June 27 by his predecessor, Rt. Hon. J. L. Isley, now justice minister, a deficit of $260,000,000 and $300,000,000 had been forecast. Revenues had surpassed all expectations and expenditures had been lower than forecast.

"WE CAN TAKE legitimate pride in the fact that in the first fiscal year beginning after V-J Day we have been able to better than balance our public accounts by a wide margin," said Mr. Abbott. "This large surplus is a tribute primarily to the health and strength of Canada's economy but the government of the day and particularly my predecessor, are I believe, entitled to take credit for the prudent management of the country's financial affairs to which this result bears witness."

"We should not, however, be led into false optimism, nor should we jump to the conclusion that our present tax structure is much more than adequate to meet all our future requirements. There are abnormal aspects of both the revenue and expenditure sides of our accounts which need to be considered before we can obtain anything like a true picture of probable future budgets."

On the revenue side, for instance, there were special receipts of $372,000,000, representing the proceeds of sale of surplus war assets, refunds of previous year's expenditures and other credits of a temporary character. On the expenditure side there were substantial sums of a temporary, abnormal or non-recurring character.

Turning to the outlook for 1947, Mr. Abbott said:

"THE DEMANDS for our production this year are so strong that I think we may legitimately make our budget plans in the expectation that our gross national product for this year, 1947, will exceed the estimated total of $11,100,000,000 for 1946 and may amount to something close to $12,000,000,000, calculated at prices somewhat above those prevailing last year."

"Any such forecast in these uncertain and abnormal times is subject to a wide margin of possible error and to many qualifications. In particular, we must expect that the figure will be less than that I have mentioned, if a substantial recession should occur in the United States later this year."

"In terms of basic economic fundamentals Canada's international position is stronger today than at any previous time in our history. We emerged from the war with our productive apparatus not only completely unimpaired but enormously enlarged and strengthened."

"Our working force is larger, more highly skilled, and more fully employed than ever before. Our competitive position in world trade has been greatly improved as a result of our increased efficiency and the degree of control we have been able to exercise over inflationary rises in prices."

"SINCE the beginning of the war we have reduced our net international indebtedness by about 35 per cent, and this in spite of supplying huge quantities of goods to our Allies on a gift or mutual aid basis. In 1946 we had a favorable balance in our current transactions with the world as a whole greater than that achieved in any previous year."

Mr. Abbott reviewed the effects of the government trade policies on employment, mentioned that inflationary forces were less powerful than in the past, and made a statement on the negotiations for new taxation agreements with the provinces.

He said the government looked forward to the day when agreement with all or substantially all of the provinces would make possible the achievement of the proposals outlined in the Dominion-Provincial conference in August, 1945.

"These include not only the elimination all across Canada of the evils of duplication and conflict in the fields of direct progressive taxation which have such important economic effects, but also the development of an efficient and flexible tax system designed to promote the expansion of employment and incomes as well as a comprehensive program for the co-operation of Dominion and Provincial governments in the field of public investment and social security," he said.

"NEVERTHELESS, we do not ask any province to accept a tax agreement unless it believes such agreement to be in its own interest as well as that of the country as a whole. We did our best to shape the offer of last June in such a way as to make it possible and satisfactory for any province to remain out of the agreement if it wished to do so, and we would far prefer to have a province remain out indefinitely than to endeavor to persuade it to come in against its own judgment of where its true interests lie."

Mr. Abbott said there was a "temporary character" to the expenditure that "is the stimulus to our present high level of income and production." For instance, there were payments to veterans which

Liberals Jubilant Over New Budget

By R. K. CARNEGIE

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Liberals members of parliament last night were jubilant over the budget brought down by Finance Minister Abbott and some went as far as to agree it would be a good budget on which to call an election, but prophesied better ones for an appeal to the people next year or in 1949.

"This is just a start," said a member close to the cabinet. "The minister's announcement that a bill would be introduced later this session re-writing the basic income tax law will be popular with business men. However, it will not be passed until next session."

"The government's plans for social security legislation on a broad scale also have to come. I think the government will wait for these before going to the country unless something unexpected happens."

Canada-U.S. Dollar Adjustment Defended

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott in his budget speech to the Commons last night defended the government's action last summer in adjusting the Canadian dollar to parity with United States funds and thus put at rest recurrent rumors that this step soon was to be reversed.

MR. ABBOTT ascribed the current drain on Canada's U.S. dollar reserve to the fact that "in any period in which we are enjoying high levels of production and high consumer incomes Canada imports a great deal from the United States."

He continued: "This point has a real bearing on the validity of the suggestion which is made in some quarters that it would have been better not to have restored the Canadian dollar to parity last July, and that we should stop the drain on our U.S. dollar reserves to reverse that action."

"The argument is based largely on pre-war conditions of unused capacity and limited demand that do not exist today."

"It seems to assume that exchange depreciation would restrict the flow of imports or increase the flow of exports."

A LARGE proportion of our imports from the United States, including, for instance, such necessary products as coal, petroleum and raw cotton, would clearly not be affected at all, and under present conditions of shortages on the supply side and urgent and unsatisfied demands on the other, the effect of our volume of imports of, say, a 10-per cent change in the cost of most other import items would be very slight indeed."

"After all, the rise in prices in the United States which has occurred since last July has had no apparent effect on discouraging imports to this country."

"On the export side, too, the change in the exchange rate has had relatively little, if any, effect in reducing the amount of our exports, except possibly to some extent in the case of gold, and, indeed, the change may have actually increased our receipts of foreign exchange in some cases as a result of adjustments in the prices obtained by our exporters."

"OUR JUDGMENT on this matter is based on the fact that the exchange rate has had relatively little, if any, effect in reducing the amount of our exports, except possibly to some extent in the case of gold, and, indeed, the change may have actually increased our receipts of foreign exchange in some cases as a result of adjustments in the prices obtained by our exporters."

Veteran-Buying Now Subsiding

Abbott Declares Inflationary Pressures Remain at Work but on Reduced Scale

OTTAWA, April 30 (CP)—Inflationary pressures still are at work in Canada's economic structure in this period of post-war prosperity but on a reduced scale, Finance Minister Abbott reported last night in his budget speech to the Commons.

HE SAID the country no longer had the huge war requirements "of our own and other governments exerting a constant and almost irresistible force" on prices and supplies while the upward pressure of costs also was "less strong" and in many cases adjustments had been made to higher cost levels during the last year.

The first rush of returned servicemen and other consumers to buy whatever was available now was "subsiding" and it could be expected that buyers would become "more selective."

On the other hand, said Mr. Abbott, it must be recognized that export demands for many products remained strong despite exchange difficulties of some of Canada's customers.

THE HUGE expenditures of business on new plant, equipment, buildings and stock in trade now constituted in themselves a "very potent inflationary force" on prices. Price levels of other countries, particularly the United States and the United Kingdom, were "substantially higher" than those in Canada and through both exports and imports they exerted a "strong upward thrust" on Canadian prices.

Mr. Abbott summed up: "ON BALANCE, while there are still some inflationary forces to contend with, they are less powerful than in the past and not such as to interfere with the orderly decontrol of prices and supplies."

Abbott Discusses Agreements

No New Tax Offers Made to Provinces

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott in his budget speech to the Commons last night referred to tax agreement negotiations with the provinces, but he made no new offers and gave no new details on the progress of the negotiations.

THE GOVERNMENT, he said, still looked forward to the day when the agreement of all or substantially all provinces would make possible the achievement of the proposals put forward to the Dominion-Provincial conference which opened in August, 1945, and ended in failure in May, 1946.

When that conference failed the Dominion in its last budget offered new proposals for an agreement under which the provinces would give up the income, corporation and inheritance tax fields in return for fixed annual payments of $200,000,000. This figure was boosted by $25,000,000 last January.

Since then agreements have been negotiated with Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. Agreement still is lacking with Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia.

MR. ABBOTT said the proposals to the original conference which the government still hoped to carry out when substantial agreement was reached included the elimination of the evils of duplicate taxation.

They also included the "development of an efficient and flexible tax system designed to promote the expansion of employment and incomes, as well as a comprehensive program for the co-operation of Dominion and Provincial governments in the field of public investment and social security."

"NEVERTHELESS," said Mr. Abbott, "we do not ask any province to accept a tax agreement unless it believes such agreement to be in its own interest as well as that of the country as a whole."

We did our best to shape the offer of last June in such a way as to make it possible and satisfactory for any province to remain out of the agreement if it wished to do so, and we would far prefer to have a province remain out indefinitely than to endeavor to persuade it to come in against its own judgment of where its true interests lie.

New Budget Without Single Tariff Change

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Canada's budget came down last night without a tariff change, for perhaps the first time since the Dominion's tariff structure came into existence.

FINANCE MINISTER Abbott told the Commons all changes were being held in abeyance pending the outcome of international trade negotiations in Geneva, to which Canada is a party.

Finance department officials said they did not recall a previous budget which did not contain at least a few tariff changes.

Telling the House that the Geneva negotiations were of the greatest importance to Canada, the finance minister said the government hoped and expected that out of them would come "sufficient reductions in tariffs to make it practicable to establish an international trade organization."

IT WAS HOPED, too, he declared, they would result in a code of international behavior "on import restrictions, export subsidies and other commercial policies."

He added: "Canada is, of course, prepared to make tariff reductions and reductions in preference in exchange for tariff reductions by the United States and by other countries."

But he stressed that the liberal trade policy the United States advocates could not be followed unless large-scale American imports provided the worth with "an adequate supply of U.S. dollars."

THIS WOULD call for a greater opportunity being given other countries to sell their goods to U.S. markets than they have had up to now.

A second point was that the proposed international trade charter should not be loaded down with "qualifications" and "escape clauses" that might undermine its potential benefits.

Fiery Outbursts At Commons Meet

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—A fiery meeting of the Commons redistribution committee yesterday voted 13 to 5 against giving further consideration to the realigning of boundaries of federal electoral seats in Eastern Ontario, where Prime Minister Mackenzie King's seat is located.

ANOTHER HEATED session appeared to be shaping up on a plan that might eliminate the Manitoba seat now held by John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader.

With heated tempers paying no heed to party lines, some committee members indicated that they plan to fight against a preliminary Manitoba report which called for uniting Mr. Bracken's Neepawa seat with Portage La Prairie, now held by Cal. Miller, a Progressive Conservative.

Manitoba members said after the meeting that adoption of the plan would mean that Mr. Bracken and Mr. Miller would have to decide between them who would run in the newly-created seat.

No changes are to be made in Alberta, New Brunswick or Prince Edward Island, the only provinces whose representation remains unchanged. In Nova Scotia, where there are now 12 seats, a new seat will be made up of the municipalities of Queen's and Shelburne.

9-Year-Old Boy Held for Murder

PORT TALBOT, Wales, April 30.—(AP)—A nine-year-old boy yesterday was committed for trial on a murder charge in the drowning of a four-year-old playmate, Glyndwr Parfitt. The name of the accused boy was not made public. Under British law children above the age of eight may be held accountable for crimes, although severe sentences have been imposed rarely on children in the last 100 years. Crown Prosecutor George Robey said the nine-year-old admitted trussing his young companion with shoelaces and throwing him into a mining valley river.

Less Than UK, But Over U.S.

Comparison of Taxation In Canada, Britain, U.S.

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Canadian taxpayers, when they feel the full benefit of their new income tax rates proposed in the budget last night by Finance Minister Abbott, will be paying much less than their British counterparts but in most cases more than United States taxpayers.

BASING HIS FIGURES ON THE NEW Canadian income tax rate he proposed become effective July 1 compared with proposed new tax rates in the United Kingdom and the United States, Mr. Abbott presented the House three tables showing the relative positions of the single and married Canadian taxpayer with those across the border and in the U.K.

Single Persons
Income	$1,000	$2,000	$3,000	$5,000
Canada proposed tax	29	220	420	835
United Kingdom proposed	88	447	822	1,572
United States proposed	53	193	357	638

Married Persons No Children
Income	$2,000	$3,000	$5,000	$10,000
Canada proposed tax	70	270	670	1,990
United Kingdom proposed	321	696	1,446	3,821
United States proposed	106	258	555	1,619

Married Persons Two Children
Income	$2,000	$3,000	$5,000	$10,000
Canada proposed tax	36	230	630	1,930
United Kingdom proposed	125	300	1,250	3,634
United States proposed	93	288	588	1,576

MR. ABBOTT NOTED THAT IT was presumed in the latter tables that the two children were eligible for family allowances. To obtain the taxpayer's net position after taking into account of family allowances, $52 should be offset against the United Kingdom tax and $144—the average family allowance for two children in Canada—against the Canadian tax.

Expect Big Reduction In Canadian Income

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—The federal government's 1947-48 revenues are expected to total $2,450,000,000 compared with $2,984,000,000 in 1946-47, a drop of $534,000,000. Finance Minister Abbott said last night in his budget speech to the Commons.

A drop of $282,000,000 was expected in special receipts and credits, because the government could not count upon large refunds of previous years' war expenditures or upon large sales by War Assets Corporation. Reductions were expected also in the yields from personal income and excess profits taxes, but returns from corporation taxes were expected to be slightly higher.

He placed on the record the following table showing the 1947-48 estimate in comparison with the actual revenues of 1946-47, as now estimated:

	1947-48	1946-47
Tax	$230,000,000	$237,000,000
Customs duties	$200,000,000	$196,000,000
Sales tax (net)	$325,000,000	$298,000,000
Other excise taxes	$290,000,000	$281,000,000
Income Tax
Personal	$625,000,000	$695,000,000
Corporate	$300,000,000	$239,000,000
Excess profits	$170,000,000	$449,000,000
Interest and Dividends	$300,000,000	$300,000,000
Succession duties	$26,000,000	$24,000,000
Miscellaneous	$4,000,000	$10,000,000
Total tax revenue	$2,200,000,000	$2,450,000,000

Reach Settlement In Eldorado Case

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Reconstruction Minister Howe said Tuesday a $2,000,000 settlement in favor of the Eldorado Gold Mines Ltd., government-owned source of atomic materials, has been reached in a New York State civil suit against three men.

CANADA HAD SUED Carl French and Marcel Pochon of Toronto and Boris Pregel of New York for roughly $2,400,000 after criminal charges against them in a Toronto court were withdrawn on the advice of J. J. Robinette, Crown counsel.

The criminal charges alleged conspiracy to defraud the company prior to 1943 when the government took over the Northwest Territories site because of its vital bearing on atomic developments.

So secret were documents connected with the case that a Toronto magistrate once ordered the criminal proceedings to be held in camera. When the defendants carried the case to a higher court, the charges were dropped because Mr. Robinette recommended that "in my opinion it would be practically impossible to secure a conviction."

Most Levies to Stay as They Are

Taxation on Most Commodities Virtually Undisturbed by Budget

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Taxation on the great field of commodities remained virtually undisturbed today in the wake of the 1947-48 budget, devoted largely to income tax reductions.

FINANCE MINISTER Abbott told the Commons, in effect, that federal taxes on tobacco and liquor, on soft drinks and chinaware, on candy and furs, radios and toilet paper and many other such items would stay as they are for at least another fiscal year.

In other words, if the Canadian consumer was going to benefit from cuts in his direct-income tax he still was going to pay heavily in the indirect taxes that lurk behind the prices of all those articles.

At the same time, Mr. Abbott confirmed a previous announcement that the three-cents-a-gallon tax on gasoline had been eliminated April 1 as the only major change in the commodity field. The action chipped $40,000,000 off federal revenue and left the gasoline field open to provincial exploitation as it traditionally had been before wartime tax agreements.

"AS A RESULT," the minister said, "the reduction of our tax may not result in any reduction in taxes paid by the consumers of gasoline but that, of course, is a matter for each provincial government to decide."

A number of provinces have already announced boosts in their gasoline taxes in the wake of the federal move.

Mr. Abbott also proposed "certain minor amendments in the tax on passenger accommodation to conform with recent changes in the corresponding taxes in the United States," because "it is desirable in this field to preserve as much similarity as possible between the two countries as that simplifies greatly the position of our common carriers."

A RESOLUTION to be placed before parliament when it considers the budget calls for removal of the tax in respect of transportation by vessel or aircraft outside of Canada or the U.S. and the tax "be extended to apply to all transportation by vessel wholly within the northern part of the western hemisphere."

This was interpreted as a gesture to help Canadian shipping and air lines in international competition outside Canada and the United States.

In one final step, he proposed to "iron out certain minor anomalies in the structure of the sugar tax and to make certain technical changes in the act to improve its effectiveness."

THIS, A RESOLUTION indicated, would slash the customs tariff tax on corn and table syrups from two cents to one cent a pound.

It would lead to political centralization.

In reply to a question, the source said it was "true in a sense" that the British desire for greater economic planning in Germany reflected the political ideology of the labor government.

This, he added, was "in contrast in many ways to the United States free enterprise system."

The informant said it was not possible to say yet how the British-American differences would be reconciled. Talks are still going on at top levels, he added.

Gets 15 Years For Jewel Theft

BY RICHARD CLARK
FRANKFURT, April 30.—(UPI)—Col. Jack W. Durant was convicted today of taking part in the $1,300,000 robbery of the Hesse crown jewels and was sentenced to fifteen years at hard labor.

Standing white-faced and stiffly at attention, Durant heard the verdict of the seven-man military court which tried him for his part in the sensational disappearance of the treasure from its hiding place in Kronberg Castle near Frankfurt.

The sentence also carried the provision that Durant be dismissed from the army.

Col. Russell C. Charlton, president of the general court martial, announced that Durant was guilty of stealing the Hesse jewels, smuggling them into the United States in violation of customs laws, and signing another officer's name to hasten his own discharge.

Durant and his wife, the former WAC Capt. Kathleen B. Nash, were the principal defendants in the case. She was convicted several months ago, and is serving a prison term.

Wins Trophy

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Defence Minister Cline today announced the award of the McKee Trans-Canada trophy for 1946 to Group Capt. Z. L. Leigh, commanding officer of air force station, Goose Bay, Labrador, "in recognition of continuous outstanding performance in his duties as an officer and pilot of the RCAF, coupled with a record of 20 years of exceptional achievement in both civilian and service aviation."

Hotel Montreal, yesterday was elected president of the Hotel Association of Canada at its annual meeting here.

A Message To Our Customers

PRICES ARE TOO HIGH...

Some months ago the Army & Navy ran a series of advertisements announcing: "THE MERCHANDISING BOOM IS OVER—THE CUSTOMER IS BOSS AGAIN" . . . and that the consumer was rightfully demanding honest goods at honest prices.

We, at the Army & Navy, could clearly see a lot of trouble ahead if the Retailers, Jobbers and Manufacturers throughout Canada did not co-operate to reduce prices to a level which would make it possible for working people to buy actual necessities at prices within their reach.

In spite of definite danger signals, manufacturers have continued to raise prices to fantastic levels which will lead to BUYERS' STRIKES and utter chaos. Prices MUST and WILL come down—nothing can stay too high forever. It's time for ACTION—not words.

WE HAVE QUIT BUYING

The present policy of Army & Navy Stores is: STOP ALL BUYING UNLESS MERCHANDISE OFFERED REPRESENTS SOUND VALUE. In normal times we would NOW be placing orders with manufacturers for millions of dollars worth of goods for Fall selling . . . but the high prices have stopped us cold.

We KNOW that a workingman cannot afford to pay up to $4.00 for a pair of overalls—or twice the actual value of shirts, socks, shoes, underwear and other articles. Prices of ladies' apparel, children's wear and household necessities are sky high. Drastic action is imperative to FORCE manufacturers to bring down the high cost of living.

Along the Fairways

with Bert Greer

Golf conditions in Edmonton have improved since a group of fairway addicts sent the weatherman a big calendar portraying a group of bathing beauties on a sunny beach, and with a dark circle emphasizing that it was the month of April.

So, being a fair-minded fellow, Mr. Weatherman reciprocated by pulling the curtain and letting "Old Sol" flood the greens and fairways with warm sunshine last weekend. He went still further yesterday, when he ordered a couple of warm showers, and today the links are as green as the Emerald Isle.

None of the clubs have given much thought to competition at this early date, but it is expected that the inter-club matches will get underway in the near future.

Edmonton links fans may have an opportunity to see Mildred "Babe" Dicksen Zaharias, who has cleaned up in practically every major women's golf tournament in the United States this year.

Babe Zaharias, her brother-in-law who took part in Thursday night's wrestling card, divulged this information after his bout with Danny Dusek. He said her husband, George Zaharias, would likely come to Edmonton for a bout before the summer was out and the Babe would probably accompany him.

Mrs. Zaharias is now playing in North Carolina and intends to take a trip to England. She hopes to play in a few tournaments over there and then tour Canada and U.S., he said.

Having two Babes in one family is a trifling confusion sometimes. Zaharias remarked. He said on one occasion Babe was playing golf in Chicago and he was billed to wrestle that night in Memphis, Tennessee.

A Memphis sportsman who had just finished scrutinizing the sports pages, approached Babe at the wrestling match and remarked that the wrestler had shot quite a home in Chicago.

"Yes, I did," said Babe, seizing an opportunity to have a little fun. "How did you get into Memphis so fast?" the sportsman inquired.

"Oh, I just flew in," declared Babe, and he walked away before the Memphis man delved too deeply into the matter.

It would be interesting to compare the top women shot-makers in Alberta with the long-hitting Mrs. Zaharias. If the U.S. star makes the trip it might be a good idea to invite Mary Manning, or Paddy Arnold of Calgary, to play against her. Mrs. Manning was runner-up to Miss Arnold, in the provincial championship last year.

Then again, it might be still more interesting to see how the Babe would stack up against a shot maker like Henry Martell, the Dominion champion. It would probably be much closer than the previously suggested match.

Don't be surprised if Babe turns up in Edmonton around the 3rd of June.

THE STRANGER

"Who's that stranger, mother dear? Look, he knows us. Ain't he queer?"

"Hush, my own, don't talk so wild. He's your father, dear child!"

"He's my father? No such thing! Father died away last spring!"

"But they've closed the club, so he has no place to go, you see."

"No place left for him to roam—That is why he's coming home."

"Kiss him, my own, he won't hurt you, child. All them golfing guys look wild."

Press and Radio Guests at Showing Of Baseball Films

Films of the 1946 world series between St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Red Sox, "Circling the Bases" and "Inside Baseball" were shown to members of the press and radio through the courtesy of Messrs. John Ducey and John Beatty at an informal get-together Tuesday night.

Along with the world series film were pictures of last year's American and National all-star game. Circling the Bases and Inside Baseball are ball educational films, illustrating the correct methods for batting, running the bases, as well as catching.

Irvin Lund of the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce was in charge of the films.

PRESENT, in addition to Messrs. Ducey and Beatty, were Henry J. Roche, president of the Big Four Inter-Baseball League, H. R. Hammond, F. M. Gerrie, Gordon Williamson, Russ Sheppard, Don Warner, George Mackintosh, Stan Mohr, Bert Greer, Adolph Newman, Brant Matthews, Cecil Goldstick, Andy Philip and Harold Dean.

Sweden Names Two Davis Cup Stars

STOCKHOLM, April 30 (AP)—Swedish tennis officials Tuesday named Lennart Bergelin and Torsten Jansson to open Sweden's Davis Cup bid against Czechoslovakia in the first round of European play May 24.

Swedish fans expect the young pair to be even better than last year, when they won the European zone title before losing to the United States in the inter-zone finals.

THEY HAVE had the best available preparation—six weeks of tournament play on the French Riviera. There, the 22-year-old Bergelin, who reached the Wimbledon quarter-finals last year, registered victories over two Americans, Bob Falkenburg and Budge Patty.

Bergelin looked so good on the Riviera that the president of the French Lawn Tennis Federation, Pierre Gillou, labelled the Swedish ace the best player in Europe.

THE DAY'S pitching tid-bit was a four-hit shutout thrown at Cincinnati Reds by Boston's Warren Spahn as the Braves grabbed a 4-1 verdict. Hemers by Hank Greenberg and Ralph Kiner off successive pitches featured Pittsburgh Pirates' 6-2 win over Philadelphia Phils and New York Giants broke a last-place tie with St. Louis Cardinals by walloping the Red Birds 7-2.

Don Black walked a man with the bases loaded in the top half of the ninth to give Philadelphia Athletics a 4-3 victory over Cleveland Indians. The champion Boston Red Sox dropped an 8-3 decision to Detroit Tigers in the only other American League game.

WILLIAM HELIS' Cosmic Bomb was third, the length back. Faultless clicked off the mile in 1:37 3/5ths, and returned $480, $280 and $220. Star Reward was $340 and $280 and Cosmic Bomb paid $420 for third.

Stepfather, the California-bred stretch-runner for whom movie-man Harry M. Warner paid $200,000 some weeks ago, finished fourth, six lengths behind the winner.

Brooklyn's Dodgers Rolling Without Leo

NEW YORK, April 30 (CP)—The experts who counted Brooklyn Dodgers out of the National League pennant race following Manager Leo Durocher's one-year suspension took another look today and found the Bums jauntily perched two games ahead of the nearest opposition on the strength of yesterday's thumping 10-6 win over Chicago Cubs.

A seven-run seventh inning, topped by Dixie Walker's base-clearing double with the sacks filled, Carl Furillo's two-run homer and Eddie Stanky's double good for two more provided Brooklyn's winning margin. Peanuts Lowrey honored with two on for the losers.

Stampeders Charge Back Into Running

Shade Montreal 2-1 to Even Up Dominion Final

MONTREAL, April 30 (CP)—Calgary Stampeders, rebounding smartly from their opening game defeat, edged Montreal Royals 2-1 Tuesday night in a nip-and-tuck to even the best-of-seven Allan Cup final series at one game apiece.

The hard bumping and bawling Western Canada color-bearers matched Royals in speed and checking for two periods and won the game on Dunc Grant's goal at 14:30 of the third frame.

Previously in this second tilt for the Dominion senior amateur hockey title Bunny Dame had scored for Calgary and Cliff Malone for the Montreals, both in the second seas.

THE TEAMS threw their weight around freely, but the game was remarkably clean with only one 10-minute misconduct being handed out along with two minor penalties. The misconduct went to Casavant of Montreal for arguing with referee Lorne Linden, who handled the match with referee Ken Holmshaw.

Roy is outshot Calgary 31 to 15. The teams play the third game here Thursday and then move back to Maple Leaf Gardens at Toronto for the next three games, with a seventh, if necessary, scheduled for Montreal.

AFTER A SCORELESS opening period when Russ Dertell, agile Calgary goalie, kept Royals off the score sheet with several remarkable saves, Bunny Dame sent Stampeders ahead at 10:01 of the second session when he split the Montreal defence, fired a high shot that bounced off McNeill's chest and then slipped the loose rubber into the net before the Montreal netminder could grab it with his gauntlets.

Royals swept back with renewed drive after this marker and at 14:24 their efforts paid off with Malone beating Dertell from about five feet out after taking Doug Harvey's rebound. Campeau also drew an assist on the play.

A CAPACITY crowd of 12,300 roared with excitement as play swept from end to end in the final stanza. Grant banged home the winning goal as his linemate, Hunter, set a pass that eluded Montreal's Harvey.

Dertell had some anxious moments in the Calgary net as the Montreals attacked in swarms, especially when Calgary's defence-man Art Michalak took a penalty.

The last two minutes Coach Frank Carli removed McNeill from the goal to send up six forwards with a minute of play left, but Dertell managed to stem the tide until the siren sounded.

CALGARY—Dertell; Michalak, Shoggett, Hunter; Brownridge, Grant, Suba; Cradock, Dame, Finer, Cairns, Wilder, Desmarais, French.

MONTREAL—McNeill, Galbraith, Harvey, Burtwell, Riopelle, Curry, Suba; Laforce, Campeau, Plamondon, Malone, Casavant, Morin, Lucas, Leclerc, Offenberg, Holmshaw (Toronto) and Lorne Linden (Winnipeg).

FIRST PERIOD: Scoring—None. Penalties—None.

SECOND PERIOD: 1—Calgary, Dame (Fisher) 10:01. 2—Montreal, Malone (Campeau, Harvey) 14:24. Penalties—Casavant 10-minute misconduct.

THIRD PERIOD: 3—Calgary, Grant (Hunter) 14:30. Penalties—Dertell, Michalak.

Windsor Goes Down 59-51

Vancouver Meralomas Capture Cage Crown

VANCOUVER, April 30 (CP)—Vancouver Meralomas Tuesday night captured the Montreal Sportman's trophy, emblematic of Canadian basketball supremacy, when they defeated Windsor Assumption College 59-51 in the fifth game of the best-of-five final series.

Jack Pomfret, an absentee in Monday night's encounter, bolstered the victorious Meralomas with 14 points to lead them to their first Dominion hoop title.

Ron Weber and Stan Robertson both amassed an even dozen while Ole Bakken, high scorer of the series, contributed nine points.

FOR WINDSOR Raiders, who for the second straight year were eliminated in the final series by British Columbia hoopers, Bill Coulthard and Fred Thomas turned in top notch performances, despite their defeat.

Coulthard took the night's scoring honors with 22 points, while Thomas was runner-up with 17.

The victory for the Meralomas, marking their entry into senior "A" basketball after a 15-year layoff, was the eighth Dominion championship for a Vancouver entry and the 15th for a B. C. team in 25 years.

Meralomas moved into the lead in the first 15 seconds of the opening whistle and led 11-9 at the end of the first quarter. However, Windsor surged back to lead 26-25 at the end of the half only to fade in the see-saw third quarter with Vancouver ahead 43-40.

MERALOMAS, sensing victory, could not be held in the final quarter as they finished on top for 59-51.

Meralomas took the series, winning the first, third and final games, with a total of 305 points against Windsor's 272.

For Assumption College Coach Red Nantias, it means the third unsuccessful visit to this coast in an effort to lift the title. The last basketball title held by Windsor was captured by Windsor Fords who defeated Victoria Dominions in 1936. The only other Windsor victory was registered in 1928 by Windsor Alumni who defeated University of British Columbia entry.

During regular season play, Meralomas rang up 28 victories against two defeats while Windsor compiled 23 wins and six losses.

BALTIMORE, April 30 (AP)—Two-ton Tony Galento, the former Orange, N. Holding an ice bag to his left eye where a red mark as big as a pin head showed, Galento complained after his grappling debut "these guys use their feet and punch. He liked to blind me."

HIS 10-MINUTES of grappling with Rhodes was devoid of the customary melodramatics of the wrestling game. The end came suddenly when Rhodes tried a flying kick, Galento grabbed his legs and pressed him to the mat.

Winston Churchill
Mysterious Painter
By JACK S. SMITH
LONDON, April 30.—(AP)—A mysterious painter who turned out to be Winston Churchill had Londoners' art world agog last night.
Under the name of "Mr. Winter," of whom no art judge ever had heard, the cigar-smoking amateur submitted two canvases to the Royal Academy, Britain's foremost gallery, and hoped they'd be good enough for a spot in its annual exhibition.
Only art's elite ever make the grade, but both of Mr. Winter's entries were accepted. One was ordered hung "on the line" or at eye level. Professional painters have doubted for years without achieving that distinction.
A spokesman for the Academy said the selection committee learned after finishing its work that Mr. Winter was in fact the country's wartime prime minister.

STATEMENT OF POLICY
From

EDMONTON AUTOMOBILE DEALERS

In Respect Of

New Cars and Used Cars

- 1. Re. NEW CAR VALUES:
We are convinced that the price of New Cars is more than in line with the prices charged for other commodities, and as a dealer body we are certain that the material and workmanship is of the highest quality.
- 2. Re. USED CAR VALUES:
The price of used cars is out of all proportion to the dollar value of a new automobile.
Used cars have been sold in Edmonton with no repairs or warranty, far above their actual worth as compared to a per dollar value of a New Automobile.
Many returned men, and others are being sold used cars at prices hundreds of dollars above their true value

The New Car Dealers in the city of Edmonton will not be a party to selling anyone a USED CAR for a price that is not in line with the per dollar value of a new automobile

Schools To See
Temperance Film
"It's the Brain That Counts" is a temperance film distributed by the Associated Temperance Forces of Alberta. It will be shown in all intermediate schools, according to a decision of the Edmonton public school board made at a meeting in the Civic Block Tuesday night.
A COURSE giving instruction in life-saving and promoting sound physical recreation was discussed by the board. Because courses would be held near the final examination period, it was decided to allow principals of schools to decide whether pupils will attend. The course will be divided into two sections, the first to be held May 9 and 12, and the second May 23 and 26.
Appointments to various positions were as follows:
F. W. Woolton, appointed principal of Mill Creek school; E. D. Baker, principal of Virginia Park school; E. J. Radke, vice-principal of King Edward Intermediate school; Miss Wilma Van Deelen, staff of Eastwood high from Sept. 1947 to June 1948; T. Sawchuk, as boys physical education and chemistry teacher at Victoria and McDougall high schools; W. Wedderburn, English and social studies at Victoria high; J. C. Brown, Latin and French at Strathcona high; O. Stratte, English at Strathcona high and physical education at University high; I. H. Russell, social studies at Strathcona high.

News Said Mould Of Public View

TORONTO, April 30.—(CP)—Public sentiment is moulded in a considerable degree by the quality of news, F. I. Kor, publisher of the Hamilton Spectator, said in his presidential address to the annual meeting of the Canadian Press here today.
HE SAID: The press holds a mirror to the happiness of the day. Unless the mirror is as flawless as it is humanly possible to make it, its reflections will be distorted. When distortion occurs in one newspaper, The Canadian Press and all who print its news may suffer.

Due to the waywardness of human nature there is in all things an inevitable difference between theory and practice. A fact all too commonly overlooked is that any plan or policy, however well conceived, must be put into effect by human beings with many shortcomings and in practice must fall short of perfection in about the same degree as the people by whom and for whom it is applied.

The plan and basic policies of The Canadian Press leave little to be desired. This may also be said of the other great world news services. Nevertheless, if one may judge by the public opinion in this country and throughout the world, as reflected in the press, the moulders must, in varying degrees, have departed from the pattern.

Festival Planned For Athabasca

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred
Everyone views money differently. Some look upon it with positive indifference because they have always had it and so take it for granted. Others, however, have had to struggle for money and so its advantages, the things it can provide, the prestige it brings have been denied them and they view it with respect and desire. Every penny is precious and has its value.

It is impossible for two parents with such divergent viewpoints to give their children a comprehension of the place money plays in our lives. Their attitudes will not correspond with their words.

They may be in conflict over a simple matter as the child's allowance. One parent will be for it, saying, "With truth—that they give children a little money, food, medical care and education without demanding work in return for it. Why make them work for money? The other parent will retort that the child must learn to work for his money, otherwise, come easy, go easy."

They might compromise in this way. The small child should have household tasks to do, because tasks are a necessity to the program of home-making and he is a part of the home. If he is not given money for tasks, he will demand more work in order to earn more money; or, he won't refuse to perform his obligations because he doesn't want the money. Either course is possible if we demand work in repayment for money.
